Liina-Ly Roos Awarded Chester William Fritz Scholarship for 2016-17

Submitted by Andrew Nestingen on May 9, 2016 - 12:02pm

Graduate Student Liina-Ly Roos was awarded the University of Washington’s Chester William Fritz Scholarship in the Humanities for 2016-17. The scholarship is awarded to top students nominated by their departments, with a final competitive award made by a committee appointed by the Divisional Dean of Humanities. The scholarship is designed to support “highly deserving students in the humanities.” Roos will use the scholarship to aid her during her work on her dissertation, “The Child in Contemporary North and East European Imagination: War and Crisis of the Everyday.” Liina-Ly’s adviser is Andrew Nestingen.
