Norwegian University of Science & Technology

Norwegian University of Science & Technology Exchange- One or Two Semesters

With a population of about 165,000, Trondheim counts itself as Norway's third largest city. The city's cafes spill out onto cobblestone streets lined with colorful wooden buildings, while the twin towers and copper-clad spire of Europe's northernmost gothic cathedral frame the southern skyline. As the second largest university in Norway, NTNU has 53 departments spread out over seven major campuses, Whether your passion is ship design or medical research, virtual reality or urban renewal in China, NTNU has something for you.
